

Assignment

1. Observe yourself and one of your friends while reading online news across at least three news websites (e.g., BBC, The Guardian, The Wire, Newslandry, or Times of India). Identify which website was easiest and most difficult to navigate, from main headlines to the specific news articles. Explain your observations using concepts of attention.
1. Further, choose at least one of the following factors: knowledge, expectancy, or goal, and explain how it affects visual search while reading these news websites.
